Middletown, CT – Consulting Engineering Services (CES) announced the promotions for the following employees effective January 2017:

Michael B. Walsh, PE, a mechanical engineer, has been promoted to president. He joined the firm in 2005 as a team leader managing multi-disciplinary teams, then to principal, and more recently, vice president.

George V. Keithan stepped down as president and will retain his status as a founder and principal in the firm, focusing on engineering and staff mentoring. He founded the company in 1994 and has served as president and CEO since its inception. Under his direction, the firm has grown to nearly 100 employees and four offices.

James L. Senatroy, PE, has been promoted to vice president. He has been with the firm since 2002, most recently serving as a principal of the firm, treasurer, and leader for one of the firm's residential design teams. His principal responsibilities are split between the Middletown, Conn., and Norwood, Mass., offices.

Scott A. Sullivan, PE, has been promoted to principal. Since 2003, he has been a leader in public school design and utilizing renewable energies, specializing in solar photovoltaic systems. His initiative and hands-on guidance of the multi-disciplined team and all of the electrical staff has pushed CES to the forefront of energy-efficient design firms, giving the firm a reputation as a leader in green technologies.

Derek T. Bride was promoted to associate. With more than a decade of experience, he has quickly risen within the firm to his new role as associate. His design team has exceeded expectations with their collaborative design approach and open team communication. Bride is also currently president elect on the American Society of Heating, Refrigerating, and Air Conditioning Engineers (ASHRAE) CT Chapter Board of Governors.

Michael T. Bouchard, PE, has been promoted to team leader. He is a project manager and mechanical engineer with nearly a decade of experience and a LEED Accredited Professional.

Vincent J. Burns has been promoted to team leader. He is an experienced mechanical engineer and has been serving as a project manager with CES in the New York City office since 2015. Burns thrives in the fast-paced, energetic NYC atmosphere. Concentrating on many projects throughout the city, he has expanded the NYC's office portfolio to include new clients and exciting, high-caliber projects. His unwavering enthusiasm and dedication have earned Burns a spot as a team leader Richard S. McCracken has been promoted to project manager. He started with CES in 2010 with 30+ years' experience in electrical engineering. Through cutting-edge electrical engineering designs and knowledge of all phases of electrical engineering, he is a go-to resource for training in the office.
